

This is a simple image hosting web template.

The users are able to login and sign up by entering the right email and password that you enter in the sign up pages.

We want the user to be able to upload and make commands on the image. We allow users to chat and they can also follow other users as well. It will allow the user search by tags or the name of the Authors.